

Think Chocolate

Sonia Weitz (July, 2003)

If I could would I want to turn the clock
to earlier years
with it's trauma and it's fears just to be a younger me?

No, I guess not What I am and what I got is pretty hot
as well as cool.
I'd be a fool
to have regrets.
I catch the moon,
I ride the stars
and soon I can endure
a cloud or two
when they obscure
my view
to inspire
a desire to defy the commonplace days of happiness and sun of accomplishments and fun.

Soooo, if I could would I want to be
a younger me?
Hmmmmm, let me think
and think some more
weigh the issues
add the score
I think: pink brilliant sunsets
I think: 'chocolate' and smile (time to dream-on for a while...)
Hey, I'm thinking
Why, o why
would I want to be a younger me?

I am loved,
sometimes admired (which, of course, is dumb) and the best is yet to come
...is yet to come
